INVESTOR IN PEOPLE

How to get involved

We are committed to providing good quality housing and services which fully meet customers' needs, while ensuring best value for money. We can only do this if we know what our customers think about our services, how they could be improved and how they should be shaped in the future.

The best way for us to find this out is to listen to your comments, views and suggestions. That is why we have made it as easy as possible for all customers to have their say and influence decisions which affect them.

We have developed a range of flexible opportunities for customers to get involved in a way which suits them.

Why get involved?

There are many reasons for getting involved in your housing service:

- it is your home and your neighbourhood so you should be able to say how they are managed
- you can develop new skills and meet new people
- you have valuable experiences and knowledge which we can learn from
- you pay for the services we provide so you should influence them
- you can say whether we are getting it right and if not, why not
- you can tell us what you want before we make decisions.

How to get involved

How can I get involved?

Have a look at the wide choice of ways you can become involved and then decide which suits you best.

To help you narrow down the options, when reading about the different opportunities, think about:

- how much time do you want to spend getting involved?
- which areas are you interested in?
- do you want to contribute alone or as part of a team?

Opportunities for involvement

Tenants' and Residents' Associations

Tenants' and Residents' Associations are run by local volunteers who take action on local issues such as community safety or traffic. Ask your local Customer Services Team if there is an association in your area. If not, the resident engagement team or the Walsall Tenants' and Residents' Federation (below) can help you set one up.

The Walsall Tenants' and Residents' Federation

This group works in partnership with whg to act on behalf of tenants' and residents' groups and offers practical help and advice. The federation can help connect you to a local group.

How to get involved

Focus Group

Focus groups are very informal and usually meet to discuss one specific issue such as grounds maintenance. Some groups may only meet once or twice while others meet regularly.

Customer Panel

This is an informal group of customers who meet regularly to discuss various aspects of our service, such as repairs or allocations. Relevant feedback from customer panels is then used to shape and improve services. Panels are open to all customers, just contact the resident engagement team to find out when the next one is in your area.

Survey Group

Share your views while only having to give up a little time. You will be contacted periodically by post or telephone and asked for your views on various issues. Normally you will not even have to leave your home to get involved!

Round Your Way Editorial Group

The editorial group brings together whg colleagues and customers to review our quarterly newsletter.

How to get involved

Informal Reading Group

We will send you draft leaflets, handbooks and policies and ask you to comment on them. You can take part from home by posting your views to us in the pre-paid envelope we provide.

Estate Tours

Join us on a tour of your estate and point out any issues which need addressing in your neighbourhood.

Tenant Inspectors and Mystery Shoppers

A group of customers who inspect and mystery shop our services and procedures. The outcome of these activities help us amend our services and maintain service standards. You will be given full training to help you get the best from this popular involvement activity.

Help and support available

We offer plenty of help and support so that everyone can become involved. This may mean covering travel expenses or childcare costs if appropriate.

What do I do next?

More information is available on each of these involvement opportunities, or if you have any further questions, please contact the Resident Engagement team on 0300 555 6666, email residentengagement@whgrp.co.uk or fax on 01922 423891.
